STRATEGIC PROCUREMENT MANAGEMENT

April 17 - 20, 2018
STRATEGIC PROCUREMENT MANAGEMENT

The Strategic Procurement Management program seeks to familiarize participants with the goal of aligning procurement unit functions with organizational priorities to develop integrated purchasing strategies and operations. In addition, the program seeks to expose challenges and decision frameworks in efficiently managing procurement process as well as interaction with internal and external stakeholders. In this way, the program is focused at understanding the larger picture of the organization and procurement’s role in decision making at the middle to senior management level.

During the program, participants will be exposed to a spectrum of concepts, skills and techniques essential for alleviating the role of procurement leaders to achieve desired results.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

The Strategic Procurement Management program provides a unique opportunity for participants to reflect on their sourcing strategy and understand key challenges in its implementation. Over the four days participants will gain exposure on:

- Incorporating global & local best practices in procurement/purchasing
- Different operating models, challenges and determining role of procurement leader
- Building partnerships with suppliers for long term success
- Influencing the internal customer and managing conflicts
- Negotiating and influencing high performance relationships across the organization
- Organizing the process of large one-time procurements
- Develop schemes and benchmarks of measuring and improving procurement performance

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The program is designed for senior procurement managers and executives who are responsible for leading and implementing procurement decisions organization wide.

COVERAGE

This program will cover techniques on how to optimize sourcing and understanding how procurement strategy contributes to organizational competitiveness. The program’s topics are:
