SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

Markets are becoming more and more complex and dynamic. Globalisation has led to the evolution and augmentation of supply chains beyond traditional boundaries. The impact of these factors has made supply chain management increasingly challenging and vital to organisational performance. Integrated planning across purchasing, manufacturing, and distribution is integral for the execution of shipments to meet customer commitments. Proactive and timely demand forecasting has implications on inventory and vendor management as well as the competitiveness of an organisation.

This 4-day immersive programme on Supply Chain Management emphasises the strategic importance of cross-functional links and provides insights on strengthening these links to establish the company's competitive advantage.
